

OVER IN CAMDEN

* Six dozen children's shoes were stolen Tuesday night from Alfred Sample's shoe store, near City Line Station.

* The Thaddeus Kosciuszko Independence Club has moved into new quarters at 922 Mechanic street.

* Joseph Fearon, Sr., warden of St. Paul's P. E. Church, died at his home, 525 Cooper street, yesterday, aged 77 years.

* A "smoker" was given by the United Hebrew Republican Club last evening at their headquarters, Fifth and Chestnut streets.

* George Ball is locked up at the City Hall for a hearing to-day on suspicion of having stolen a bag of lead pipe found in his possession.

* Judge Armstrong heard additional testimony in the Camden Orphans' Court yesterday in the contested will case of Rebecca E. Parker, deceased.

* City Treasurer Felton yesterday paid $5000 to County Collector Ivins on the taxes due the county, leaving a balance of $26,431.10 which the city still owes.

* John Bamford admitted to Mayor Westcott yesterday that he had stolen an $8 pair of spectacles from Mrs. Annie Evans. He was committed in default of bail.

* At the annual meeting of the Wilbey Hall Association stockholders H. B. Wilson was elected president, James B. Wilson, secretary and treasurer and George F. Fields, superintendent.