

THEIR LIFE'S WORK ENDED

Special to The Inquirer.

HADDONFIELD, N. J., Jan. 9.—Richard Wilkins Budd, aged 68, died at his residence on Ellis street today from dropsy. Mr. Budd had been a resident of the town for over forty years, during which time he was a stone and brick contractor. A few years ago he retired on account of falling health. He was a Civil War veteran and belonged to many organizations.

Mrs. Mary Harker

A stroke of paralysis yesterday caused the death of Mrs. Mary Harker, 65 years old, of 428 Emerald street, Camden. Mrs. Harker did considerable charitable work in the southern section of the city.

James S. Metler

Special to The Inquirer.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 9.—James S. Metler, a veteran of the Civil War, died here this morning from paralysis and congestion of the lungs. He was stricken ten days ago and gradually grew worse until he died.

Anthony G. Fetter

Special to The Inquirer.

HOPEWELL, N. J., Jan. 9.—Anthony G. Fetter, one of the best and most widely known residents of this borough, who was stricken with heart trouble four years ago, had a fatal stroke this morning and died. He was a native of Germany, having come to this country when but fourteen years of age. He leaves a widow and eight children.