

TROLLEY DEMANDS TO BE PRESENTED TODAY

Special Committee of Camden Councilmen and Citizens Agree on Requisites of Good Service

Members of the special committee of Councilmen and citizens appointed by President Hewitt, of Camden City Council, to look after better trolley service, held a preliminary meeting yesterday at which arguments and plans were prepared for presentation to Vice President Burleigh and other officials of the Public Service Railway Company today. If the demands are unheeded the Public Utilities Commission will be asked to investigate.

In the demands to be made today it will be asked that there be a complete restoration of the service on the North Cramer Hill and old Crosstown lines with ten minute headway; that twelve minutes service be given on the Fifth-Broadway line and that cars be operated Sunday nights. On the Sixth and Eighth streets line ten-minute service will be demanded during rush hours and fifteen-minute service at other periods. The company will be requested to withdraw the old style cars on this line.

On the Kaighn avenue line seven instead of twelve-minute service will be asked, and, in addition, efforts will be made to have a double track constructed to Park Boulevard, which will be a real tap of Forest Hill Park. Ten-minute service will also be asked on the Second and Fourth street line with service all day instead of cutting the cars of from 10 until 2 o'clock, as at present.

At the terminals it will be asked that the cars discharge passengers without running half way back to Front street, as at present, which creates much confusion.

SUNDAY ORDINANCE TO BE TESTED IN HIGHER COURT

Camden's so-called liberal Sunday ordinance is to be carried to a higher court to test its validity. Harry C. Kramer, as counsel for Louis Weisban, of Twenty-eighth street and Polk avenue, made that announcement yesterday, when his client was fined $10 by Recorder Stackhouse for selling a scrub brush and some soap powder last Sunday to Policeman Harry G. Newton, who acted under instruction from Chief of Police Gravenor.

Attorney Kramer asserted the ordinance is class legislation and absurd, in that it permits the sale of tobacco, cigars, etc., on the Sabbath, while bread, butter and other necessities are tabooed.

Field Secretary for Playgrounds

Camden's Board of Playground Commissioners has appointed Miss Mary Lacy as field secretary. She has planned to have mothers' meeting on the various recreation centres, the first to be held this afternoon at Pyne Poynt. She has also planned co-operative work with the Visiting Nurse Society, in which mothers will have facilities for placing their infants in hammocks on the various grounds. Beginning with next Monday she will conduct a series of meetings for employed girls to be held at the noon hour.

Boy Killed by Seashore Train

William Hurst, aged 9, of Woodland avenue, Camden, was struck by a Reading Railway express train from Atlantic City last evening at a grade crossing at Eighth and Bulson streets, Camden, when he ran in front of the train while playing with several companions. He was taken to the station and died while being removed from there to Cooper Hospital.

CAMDEN AT A GLANCE

Blank cartridges resulted in two persons being treated with anti-tetanic serum at Cooper Hospital yesterday. William Thompson, aged 25 years, of 2125 Watson street, and Harold Gendlof, aged 12 years, of 905 Woodland avenue, are the victims, both having been wounded while visiting outside Camden.

Under command of Executive Officer Francis Hoffman, members of the Second Battalion, New Jersey Naval Reserves, left Camden aboard the U. S. S. Vixen yesterday for their annual cruise. They went as far as Lewes, Del., aboard that craft, later being transferred to the U. S. S. Rhode Island. They will go to Bermuda.

Vice Chancellor Learning yesterday awarded the custody of the three children of Dr. William J. Doherty and his wife, Mrs. Emma Doherty, of Chelsea, to the mother. It was the continuation of the hearing of the domestic difficulties of the two, which was interrupted at Atlantic City on Monday when the wife fainted while on the witness stand.

With a capital of $125,000, the Stokes' Seed Farm Company was incorporated yesterday, the incorporators being Walter P. Stokes, Francis C. Stokes and Walter H. Savery.

While gathering driftwood, George Sepula and Jacob Laponski, of Bridesburg, yesterday found the body of an infant floating in the Delaware. Coroner Bentley said the little one had died from natural causes.

As a result of the grade crossing accident at Gloucester City on May 18, when three persons were killed, Miss Edith Chivra, of 809 Kimber street, has brought suit to recover $10,000 from the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad Company.
